LYCAMOBILE STATEMENT TO PARTNERS

Lycamobile can announce that the network outage issues that are affecting its service for the last 24 hours are due to serious technical issues with the Vodafone network that are completely outside the control of Lycamobile.

We have assurance from Vodafone Netherlands that they are working continually to resolve these network issues and we are hoping that this outage will be resolved shortly “Vodafone would like to point out to Lycamobile partners that we are supporting Lycamobile unconditionally in the Dutch Marketplace and we do everything we can to resolve the unfortunate network issues and minimise the effects for all our customers,” commented Vodafone.

A communication will be sent to all our partners as soon as Vodafone have informed us that these issues have been fixed.

We would like to take this opportunity to apologise to our valued partners for this loss of service.
