Lycamobile top-ups from Barclays

May 12, 2010

Barclays Bank will allow Lycamobile customers to top-up their prepay accounts from cash machines

Ethnic market MVNO Lycamobile has reached agreement with Barclays Bank to allow credit top-ups from Barclays Bank cash machines.

Lycamobile said it will pursue similar arrangements with other high street banks through payment provider VocaLink. It aims to offer top-ups from 50,000 UK cash machines.

Lycamobile chief executive Milind Kangle (pictured) said: "We are the first international MVNO to offer top-ups on cash machines in the UK and this is another example of how we are leading the International market. We look forward to continuing to work with VocaLink to extend the ATM reach across the UK wide network with other banks."
